Drenching Dairy Cattle in Autumn

Treat animals in Autumn as they face the demands of advancing pregnancy and seasonal larval challenges.

Trial work has shown the benefits of mitigating the stress that cows are under at this time of the year, including:

- Improved Body Condition Scoring (BCS) as cows are metabolically more able to gain condition.
- Better BCS at calving is a critical factor in determining an early return to cycling.
- Pasture larval contaminates peak in Mar-Apr.
- Milk Solids has proven to increase by 0.03kg/day, which equates to an extra 1.26kg MS over a six week period (approx $10)<sup>1</sup>

Flexidine™ Iodised Oil Injection

Lamb survival is the biggest area of potential gain in sheep production.

3000 Ewe Flock Scenario

- Scan at tailing -130% (3,900)
(Loss of 900 lambs)

SAVE 1% (30 Lambs) @ $100 per head = $3,000
SAVE 5% (150 lambs) @ $100 per head = $15,000
At 5% the Return-on-Investment is $12,400.

There is enough evidence to show iodine is an issue in high country areas and when ewes are wintered on brassicas. Iodine deficiency has a part to play in the lamb birth weight and survival complex.
